LONDON OXFORD NEW YORK NEW DELHI SYDNEY

Ravi was the youngest and the smallest
in his family.

Everyone was bigger than him . . .

Even Biscuits the dog!

Most of the time, being the smallest was great ...

But sometimes, just sometimes, it wasn't.

One day, Ravi and his family went on a picnic.

There was a race to the train and guess who came last?

Ravi.

Everyone else got a comfy seat but Ravi had to squash in with Dad and Biscuits.

Then Biscuits made a bad smell.

Most of the time Ravi can control his temper but . . .

one day, he lets out the tiger within.

A clever and engaging book about dealing with emotions and learning to express your feelings.

Praise for Perfectly Norman:

“A sweet and truly uplifting story that celebrates diversity . . . and inspires children to dare to be different and to have the courage to stand out.” BookTrust

Praise for Ruby’s Worry:

“A perceptive and poignant story that is a must-have for all children’s bookshelves.” Guardian
