

PENGUIN HUDDLE

Ross Montgomery
Sarah Warburton

This Walker book belongs to:

.....

.....

.....

PENGUIN HUDDIE

For Rey – the original Pipsqueak

R.M.

For Ivor, who is cuddly but hates cuddles

S.W.

WALKER BOOKS AND SUBSIDIARIES
LONDON • BOSTON • SYDNEY • AUCKLAND

First published 2022 by Walker Books Ltd, 87 Vauxhall Walk, London SE11 5HJ • This edition published 2023 • Text © 2022 Ross Montgomery • Illustrations © 2022 Sarah Warburton
The right of Ross Montgomery and Sarah Warburton to be identified as author and illustrator respectively of this work has been asserted in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 • This book has been typeset in Intro • Printed in China • All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced, transmitted or stored in an information retrieval system in any form or by any means, graphic, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, taping and recording, without prior written permission from the publisher.
British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data: a catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library • ISBN 978-1-5295-1283-0 • www.walker.co.uk • 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Ross Montgomery

Sarah Warburton

The penguin pack played all day long on the frozen southern pole.

Some went ice skating...

The others juggled snowballs!

Some went fishing...

And when the sun went down,
and stars filled the cold, dark sky...

“PENGUIN HUDDLE!”

The penguins squeezed and squished together so they stayed warm and cosy all night long.

But one night, there was a gale that blew as hard as a herd of mammoths and froze the wind to the mountain.

When the penguins woke up
the next morning, they were stuck!

